General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

If your business collects data on individuals, whether it's files, photos, contacts (anything at all), then GDPR is incredibly important for you. Companies that fail to meet GDPR standards violate important laws, put consumers in danger, and could be put out of business if they are caught. What's more, GDPR can be complicated and hard to understand. This course makes things simple, so that you can make sure the business you manage is meeting GDPR standards.
