

Problem Framework

What is the problem you want to solve?

Be as specific as possible.

What information do you have on this issue?

This will be a long section as you gather information on your problem. This is where you use your information and data literacy skills to ensure you find the information you need and that the information is from reputable sources.