

Below you will find a list of writing organisations in Commonwealth countries. Google the names and initials of these organisations and they should lead you to a writing group. On their website or their Facebook site they most likely will tell you how you can join a critique group and or a children's literature organisation.

A congress was held in August 2016 by IBBY (The International Board of Books for Young People) in Auckland, New Zealand. The purpose of the congress was to celebrate the multiplicity of literacy and of literature in our world. There is more information about it here.
