

Write about one gesture that you have used that has a different meaning in another country.

Example:

I have used "thumbs up" a lot of times. In my country, it means "good job" or "OK." I have learned in other countries, like in the Middle East, that it is a rude gesture. I have never been there, so I now know not to use it. I used it when I went to the US. It is okay to use it there.
